Diagnostic Cytopathology offers web-based peer review. We require authors to submit their manuscripts to our online-submission and peer-review website at http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/dc.

If you have questions on your OA publishing eligibility, reach out to us: cs-openaccess@wiley.com

For more information and to check eligibility, visit: bit.ly/DEALAuthor

Eligible authors at German institutions may publish open access (OA) and benefit from full reading access to Wiley’s journals

Projekt DEAL and Wiley have partnered to support institutions and researchers to advance open research, drive discovery, and develop and spread knowledge.

- Eligible authors at participating German institutions may publish OA and benefit from full reading access to Wiley’s journals
- Authors from Projekt DEAL institutions may publish primary research and review articles OA in Wiley journals, and retain copyright of their works, at no charge to the author
- All Projekt DEAL institutions have access to read Wiley’s academic journals back to the year 1997

Corresponding authors who submit their work from participating Projekt DEAL institutions may:
- Publish research articles in Wiley gold OA journals without charge to authors (beginning 2019)
- Publish OA in Wiley hybrid journals without an author fee (from 1st July 2019)

Your accepted OA article is then published under a Creative Commons license on Wiley Online Library.
