Contents

EDITORIAL ................................................................................................. 3

ARTICLES
Proceedings of the XXI Congress of the IAAP, August 25-30, 2019, Vienna, Austria: Encountering the Other: Within Us, Between Us and in the World

NAVID KERMANI Deifying the Soul – from Ibn Arabi to C.G. Jung......................................................... 8
ROBERT TYMINSKI Apocalyptic themes in times of trouble: when young men are deeply alienated............... 27
CHRISTIAN ROESELER Jungian theory of dreaming and contemporary dream research - findings from the research project ‘Structural Dream Analysis’ ................................................. 44
YASUHIRO TANAKA On the relationship between the sense of self and the structure of dreams examined through questionnaire research for Japanese university students............................................. 63
TAMAR KRON Dreaming under fire: the psyche in times of continuous stress ........................................ 75
OLE VEDFELT Integration versus conflict between schools of dream theory and dreamwork: integrating the psychological core qualities of dreams with the contemporary knowledge of the dreaming brain................................................................. 88
ERNST FALZEDER Freud and Jung on Freud and Jung .............................................................................. 116
DONALD E. KALSCHEI Opening the closed heart: affect-focused clinical work with the victims of early trauma ................. 136
DANIELA EULERT-FUCHS The other between fear and desire – countertransference fantasy as a bridge between me and the other...................................................................................... 153
MARCUS WEST Self, other and individuation: resolving narcissism through the lunar and solar paths of the Rosarium ........................................................................................................... 171

Panel Presentation
Encountering the other: Jungian analysts and traditional healers in South Africa

ABSTRACTS .............................................................................................. 198

PETER AMMANN Part 1: The history ........................................................................................................... 206
FRED BORCHARDT Part 2: The context...................................................................................................... 209
NOMFUNDO MLISA Part 3: The traditional health practitioner’s stance and the world view............................... 212
RENEE RAMSDEN Part 4: Conclusion...................................................................................................... 216

CHIARA TOZZI From horror to ethical responsibility: Carl Gustav Jung and Stephen King encounter the dark half within us, between us and in the world................................................................. 219

BOOK REVIEWS

Savage Healy, N. Toni Wolff & C.G. Jung: a Collaboration (Carolyn Bray) ............................................................... 235
Lord, S. (Ed.). Moments of Meeting in Psychoanalysis (Warren Colman) ................................................................... 238
ABEL-HIRSCH, N. Bion. 365 Quotes (Maggie McAlister) ................................................................. 241
GOLDSTEIN, A. (Ed.) The Complete Works of Primo Levi (Angela Connolly) .............................................. 243

CONTRIBUTORS TO THIS ISSUE ................................................................... 248

CORRIGENDUM ............................................................................................. 252

Disclaimer
The articles and reviews published in this Journal are intended to promote discussion and scholarship. The views expressed in them, however, are not necessarily those held by the Society of Analytical Psychology, the publishers, the Journal editors or the members of the editorial team and board.
Notes for Contributors

Address for correspondence

The Editors
The Journal of Analytical Psychology,
1 Daleham Gardens, London NW3 5BY, UK
Email: journal.jap@thesap.org.uk

Submissions / ScholarOne Manuscripts

JAP is a peer-reviewed journal that welcomes submissions in English from all over the world through its online database. However only one article should be submitted at any one time.

Articles should be accompanied by a word count and should not exceed 8,000 words including footnotes and references. An abstract of no more than 200 words followed by 6 to 8 selected keywords at the beginning of the paper, should outline the major argument of the article and its significance as an addition to existing knowledge. Guidance on the optimization of titles and abstracts for online searching can be found at www.blackwellpublishing.com/bauthor/seo.asp

The JAP prefers to publish articles of clinical relevance which advance an innovative theoretical perspective or conceptual argument, and papers based on original research which has generated new empirical data.

Articles should be original contributions and should not be submitted to another publication simultaneously. Authors of articles already published in foreign languages or journals should communicate with the Editors before submitting manuscripts. The JAP cannot undertake the translation of articles into English.

References to the author’s own work should be anonymized as far as possible to prevent the author from being identifiable during the process of peer review. A brief autobiographical note containing relevant details about the author should be included separately.

The Journal has now adopted ScholarOne Manuscripts for online manuscript submission and peer review. From now on all submissions to the Journal must be submitted online at http://mc.manuscriptcentral.com/joap. Full instructions and support are available on the site and a user ID and password can be obtained on the first visit. If you cannot submit online, please contact the Editorial Office by email at journal.jap@thesap.org.uk.

Correspondence

The Journal welcomes responses to its published articles and aims to stimulate dialogue through correspondence. The Journal’s policy is to give the author responded to the option of replying to the comments as the final say in the matter. For these brief communications an abstract is not required.

Confidentiality

Authors are warned to avoid any comment that might be deemed libellous or in breach of confidentiality. Consent must be obtained from patients whose material is used in the paper and this should be confirmed in writing by the author.

Copyright

Copyright to all material published in the Journal is held by the Journal. It is the author’s responsibility to obtain clearance for use of any material requiring copyright permission and to pay any fee that may be due. This applies to all prose quotations which exceed the ‘fair dealing’ limits (i.e. more than 300 words for any one extract and more than 800 words for extracts from any one source); the generally accepted limit for all verse quotations is up to a quarter of the whole poem. For photographs and illustrations in copyright permission must be sought.

References

All references cited should be listed alphabetically at the end of the article, using the house style. For this please refer to a recent copy of the Journal or go to the JAP website or contact the JAP office at journal.jap@thesap.org.uk or call +44 (0)7542 370759.