

Applications are invited for the position of Editor

Journal of Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing

The current Editor, Professor Dawn Freshwater, is stepping down in June 2014, and we are therefore seeking applications for this prestigious position with one of the leading international psychiatric and mental health nursing journals.

The Journal of Psychiatric and Mental Health Nursing is an international, peer-reviewed publication providing a forum for the publication of original contributions that lead to the advancement of psychiatric and mental health nursing practice. It publishes papers which reflect developments in knowledge, attitudes and skills, and integration of these into practice. Detailed information about the journal can be found at www.wileyonlinelibrary.com/journal/jpm.

The successful candidate for the position of Editor will be recognized internationally for his or her academic and research achievements and will have an impressive track record of publications and presentations at conferences. The ideal candidate will possess the following skills and knowledge:

- Leadership qualities
- Professional standing
- Sound scientific judgment
- Strong publications history
- Broad knowledge of psychiatric and mental health nursing on an international level
- Awareness of trends and ethical standards within knowledge dissemination
- Excellent written and verbal communication
- Ability to work to tight deadlines
- Previous editorial experience desirable

The main functions within this role are: leadership, manuscript handling and quality control, strategic development, and journal promotion. The post involves working closely with the Publisher, the Associate Editors, and the Editorial Board.

Applicants should note that this position requires a weekly commitment of time, with additional time for meetings. The Editor can be based in any international location, and appointment will initially be for a three year term. There is an honorarium available for this position. Ideally, the successful candidate would take over this position from 1st July 2014, with a transition period during May-June 2014.

Applications should include a curriculum vitae, a short assessment of the strengths and weaknesses of the Journal, a letter outlining the skills you would bring to this position, and a statement of your vision for this Journal and how you would like to see it develop in the future.

Interviews with shortlisted candidates will take place on 25th March, by telephone.

A description of the role is available on request. Please send your application, in confidence, to Rosie Hutchinson, Journal Publishing Manager, Wiley: rosie.hutchinson@wiley.com

Applications to arrive no later than 28th February 2014
