

Why Submit Your Paper to Transactions of the Philological Society?

International reputation and scope

Transactions of the Philological Society is the oldest scholarly journal for the study of language and languages. It is a leading publication in comparative and historical linguistics. Transactions welcomes studies of all languages from the perspective of any of the various sub-disciplines of descriptive and theoretical linguistics. The full aims and scope can be viewed here.

Extensive global circulation and readership

The latest articles published in Transactions are available online in over 4,000 institutions worldwide – giving you a vast potential readership for your research.

Reach hundreds of linguists directly through The Philological Society

Transactions is the official journal of The Philological Society, the oldest learned society in Great Britain devoted to the scholarly study of language and languages. Every issue is provided in print and online to nearly 1000 members of the Society.

Rapid and easy submissions process

Transactions operates the ScholarOne Manuscripts online submission service, which provides a streamlined submission process and allows you to track progress of your submission through the review stages.

Quality peer review and quick feedback

Authors receive, on average, a first decision on papers in just ten weeks. You can expect high quality, professional and supportive feedback from the peer review process, whether or not your paper is accepted.

Speedy Publication

Articles that have been peer-reviewed, accepted and copy-edited are published rapidly online via Early View within Wiley Online Library, so papers can be read and cited within weeks of acceptance. Contributors to Transactions can register to receive automated emails at key stages of the production process.

Welcoming to Early Career Scholars

Transactions of the Philological Society runs the biennial Robins Prize for an outstanding article on any linguistic topic written by a postgraduate student. The prize-winning and runner-up articles are published in the journal. Find out more here.

Online Supplementary Materials

Transactions encourages authors to provide materials such as video abstracts or podcasts alongside their articles and provides simple guidance on how to do this. Authors are also given advice about how to maximise their article for online discoverability.

Author Discounts

Authors receive a 25% discount on all Wiley books. Click here for details.

Find out more:

Full author guidelines are available here.