U.S. Government work

Note to U.S. Government Employees: A work prepared by a U.S. federal government employee as part of the employee’s official duties is called a “U.S. Government work,” and is in the public domain in the United States. In such cases, Section 2 of this form does not apply. Outside the U.S., Wiley-Liss Inc. may secure copyright to the extent authorized under the domestic laws of those foreign countries, subject to a paid-up, nonexclusive, irrevocable worldwide license to the U.S. Government in such copyrighted work to reproduce, prepare derivative works, distribute copies to the public and perform publicly and display publicly the work, and to permit others to do so. If this work was not prepared as part of the employee’s duties, it is not a U.S. Government work.

U.K. Government work (Crown Copyright)

Note to U.K. Government Employees: The rights in a work prepared by an employee of a U.K. government department, agency or other Crown body as part of his/her official duties, or which is an official government publication, belong to the Crown. In such case, the Publisher will forward the relevant form to the employee for signature.

Otherwise, my signature indicates that I have no such financial interest.
